Breasting Buoys For Mala Wharf Contracted For

Tenders of Inter-Island Company Accepted; Work of Assembling going on; Hope To Use Wharf.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
HONOLULU, June 5.—Four breast ing buoys, including the necessary chains and incidentals for their installation have been purchased by the Harbor Board for use at Mala wharf. The purchase was made from the Inter-Island Steamship Company at a cost of $2650 and it is hoped the buoys will make Mala available for docking the Mauna Kea and other Inter-Island steamers. The Board will proceed soon with the erection of a temporary shed over part of the wharf to shelter passengers and merchandise.
Use of the wharf on the night of June 10th was extended by the board to the Lahaina Outdoor Circle who will give a moonlight dance on that night at the new wharf. A similar privilege was granted a Hilo committee for use of Kihio wharf on July 4th.
The Board received a letter from Norman Lyman asking that construction on the Kawaihae wharf be hastened. The letter stated the wharf was needed immediately for the shipment of cattle and freight. Bigelow said the Kawaihae project would probably be included in the second allotment of funds from the sale of the territorial bonds.

Letters From Honolulu
Letters received this morning from the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company and the harbor board also told of the awarding of the contract for the breasting buoys and their placing. The company wrote that it was assembling the material and would start the work of placing as speedily as possible.
The harbor board in its letter to the Maui Chamber of Commerce acknowledged receipt of the resolutions on the subject of Mala wharf which were sent to it on May 17 and advised that the matters have already been attended to except "Item 6" and continuing says in part: "The board desires to try out the effectiveness of the moorings before going to the additional expense of installing boat landings."
"We have entered into a contract with the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company to lay the necessary breasting off moorings."

Lahaina Impossible
Again last Saturday evening the Mauna Kea found it impossible to land passengers or mail at Lahaina because of the high surf that was running. Last night the same conditions prevailed and, as was done a week ago, passengers and mail were transferred off Lahaina from the Mauna Kea to the Kilaua and brought around to Kahului.
For two weeks the regular Saturday mail from Honolulu, usually reaching Lahaina that night and distributed in Wailuku on Sunday mornings, has not reached Maui until Tuesday morning.
There is much interested inquiry as to the cause of the high breakers at Lahaina. Passengers report that the voyages between Honolulu and Maui have been remarkably smooth though reports from Honolulu tell of high breakers at Waikiki. There are surmises that the cause may be connected with the recent phenomena of Kilaua. Others have suggested there must have been severe storms somewhere off in the Pacific.

Labor Organization Liable for Damages As Result of Strike

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—In its decision handed down yesterday the United States Supreme court held that labor organizations are not exempt from prosecution under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.
The opinion was delivered in the celebrated Coronado Coal case, regarded as among the most important labor litigation ever brought. It is held that labor organizations can be held liable for damages occasioned by members of such organizations during strikes.
The case was brought against the United Mine Workers by the Coronado and other coal companies as result of the 1914 coal strike. The Arkansas court had held that since the strike was unauthorized by the United Mine Workers it should not be made a party to the suit.

Truslow Case Hinged On Grave Decision

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
HONOLULU, June 5.—Efforts of the prosecution in the trial of H. A. Truslow to prove the sale by the Security Trust Company of stocks held in the name of William McCallum precipitated legal controversy so important as to its admissibility as evidence that Judge Banks ordered a recess of the court until 2:30 to take the matters under advisement, at which time arguments will be heard. The jury was excused until tomorrow.
T. D. Collins, treasurer of the trust company testified regarding the stocks held in McCallum's name and Attorney General Irwin sought to prove the sale of these by Truslow's order without notification being given McCallum. Collins testified Truslow ordered the sale of all the Millie States Oil stock held by the Trust company which included 200 shares held in McCallum's name. Several objections offered by the defense were overruled but Judge Banks took under advisement an objection to Irwin's questions based on the supposition the sale had been consummated only on the strength of instructions. Lymer arguing for the defense made several objections to the evidence being introduced regarding receipts from the sale of such stock on the grounds that the sale of the stock must be proven unqualifiedly. He declared that even had the brokerage firm of Hutton and Company had the stock with orders to sell, it must be proven that the deal had been consummated.
Banks upon ordering a recess to enable counsel to prepare arguments said "The decision of this point seems to me to be the whole thing in the case."

Trial of Criminal Cases in Progress In Circuit Court

Trial jurors answered to the roll call in the circuit court yesterday morning and the June term is in session. One case was tried yesterday and a second is on trial this morning.

The grand jury presented its report on Friday shortly after noon and found five indictments. In one case where a Lahaina man was charged with murder no indictment was found, the defendant acted in self defense and the killing was justified as appeared to be the facts from the story told by the police at the time of his arrest.

Saturday Judge Case pronounced his first sentences. Four Filipinos indicted for burglary pleaded guilty and the sentence was 18 months. Jacob Sima also pleaded guilty through W. F. Crockett, his attorney, and was sentenced to one year.

Yesterday the case of Juana Guthba Ayeong, charged with polygamy was heard. Eugene Murphy appearing for the defense. This morning the case against Antonio de Loze for a similar offense is set. For Thursday the case of Makau Naalona, charged with malicious injury, is on the calendar. It is to be followed by the case against William Leopoldo and to follow that case the charge of needless driving against John Abreu has been set.

Library Service For Molokai Is Arranged

Two branches of the Maui County Free Library for Molokai were arranged for by Miss Marion Morse the Librarian last week. Five schools there will also be served by the library which will send them regular shipments of juvenile works.

At Kaunakakai Miss Morse found that arrangements for a reading room are well under way through the endeavor of some of the most active of the public spirited citizens, especially the women. The branch of the Maui Library will be established in such reading room. Definite arrangements for the branch librarian were not completed.

At Roosevelt it is also planned to establish a reading room and when that is established, it is expected that Miss Goodhue will be the librarian there.

In the schools the teachers and pupils were delighted at the promise of books. Some of them would have liked them at once but the remaining period of the present school year is too short. The shipments will go to the Molokai Schools in the autumn when the schools are reopened.

Hawaiian Delegate To N.E.A. Convention Earned Education

William K. Hoopli, delegate at large from Hawaii to the National Education Association Convention at Boston will soon sail for the mainland. He was awarded the honor after a contest between Maui, Kauai and Hawaii after the closest kind of a race between the Valley and the Garden Isles. The understanding was that the delegate at large should be a Hawaiian and a teacher and Mr. Hoopli answered all the requirements.

It is an interesting fact that the delegate at large worked his way through the schools to get an education and he is an example of what a Hawaiian boy can do once he fixes his determination on success.

Wm. K. Hoopli was born at Makala, Lahaina, Maui, and received his early education in the Lahaina Schools, attending first the Haleaigha school and then the Luauhu school on the site of the present Kamehameha III School building. There he finished the fifth grade work and then his principal Mr. Henry Dickenson sent him up to the Lahainauna School. There he was a student for three and a half years where owing to the death of his father the month he entered that institution, he was compelled to work his way through school.

He started to earn money for books and tuition by working for the teachers, first as a yard boy for the first year earning only 25 cents a week. The second year he worked as a kitchen and house boy, earning 50 cents a week up to December and from January to June of the same school year, earned about 75 cents a week. The last year he became a cook for one of the teachers whose name is Mr. Fred Rosecrans, who is now Manager of the Paia Store, at $1.00 a week.

When nearing the end of his school life there he was given a position in the Lahaina post office as an assistant for the Steamer evenings and Saturdays until summer, earning $10.00 a month.

He was graduated from the Lahainauna School in 1910. He worked that summer in the Post Office Department but he was paid only $15.00 a month and so resigned that position and accepted new work at the Olowalu School as a principal.

The old Olowalu School was only a small hall next to the old Hawaiian church and when he had worked there for two years, the school grew larger until a new school was put up. The present school ground at Olowalu was his selection for the school inspector of those days. Olowalu started with a one room school and continued for two years on the present site, and then another room was added.

He was a principal for 14 years at the Olowalu school and from there was transferred to the Kahakulua school, which position he held for three years. He has been actively identified with the educational work in the territory ever since he became principal of the Olowalu school with the exception of two and a half years in business at the Kahului Railroad Co., office at Kahului.

In April 1920, he was called back to his old job as one of the assistants for the Kahului school by Mr. H. M. Wells, supervising principal of Maui and in May of the same year, he was appointed acting principal for the rest of the term by school commissioner Mr. D. C. Lindsay.

He attended the summer school after that, and asked for a place either at the Kahului or Olowalu schools, but, to his great surprise was appointed principal of the Kahului, which position he now holds. Under his leadership, the school at Kahului has made great progress and growth. The school grounds and buildings have been enlarged and beautified, and he has worked hard to bring the school to such a condition.

New Wage Slash for Railroad Workers, To Consider Strike

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
CHICAGO, June 6.—Despite the strong protests voiced by its three labor members the railroad board orders a new cut of seven cents an hour for shop mechanics and nine cents an hour for freight carmen.
This cut follows upon the $50,000,000 cut from maintenance workmen and totals $60,000,000 and it is expected that it will be followed by other reductions affecting all classes of railroad workers except train service men.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
CINCINNATI, June 6.—Shoppers officials here say that the decision of the railroad board will further intensify the strong dissatisfaction that already exists.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The evidence showed that they occupied separate rooms at the Palm Springs Cottage.
Woolwine said this morning he will probably accept the decision of the court as there was slight possibility of obtaining a conviction.

Japan's Cabinet Resigns; Two of Them Disgraced

Prince Regent Asks Takahashi To Hold On Until Successor Named; Party Ousts Two Members.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
TOKYO, June 6.—The Takahashi cabinet has resigned.
The Prince Regent has asked Takahashi to retain office until his successor can be chosen.
Minister of Education Nakahashi and Minister of Communication Moto-dato have been expelled from their party which holds them responsible for the downfall of the cabinet.

The fall of the Takahashi government has been freely predicted in the Japanese press for a number of weeks. At the opening of the diet last January, Associated Press dispatches from Tokyo said:

"Whether Premier Viscount Takahashi will be able to hold together the Seiyukai or government party as did his predecessor, the murdered Hara, is a question which gives particular interest to the session just opened."

"In some quarters it is confidently believed that the party suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Premier Hara and that the gap cut by the assassin's knife still remains unfilled. However, in other political circles it is confidently asserted that the new premier has all the qualities of leadership necessary to maintain the organization and control of his Seiyukai adherents."

"Appointment of the banker and financier, Takahashi, to the premiership marks a new departure. According to those in his confidence, the premier is understood to hold that his previous experience in the difficult post of minister of finance has amply equipped him to deal with the vexed problems of head of the government."

Foreign Propaganda Against Tariff Is Charged by Watson

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

He said that "free traders" has six times prostrated business and each time the protective tariff has revived it.
Yesterday Watson attacked the British and Italian ambassadors and representatives of other foreign countries for their speeches and statements in relation to foreign trade and the tariff and charged it to be "foreign propaganda" against the pending tariff legislation.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Harding said the day might come when military forces might be further reduced but "We must await fuller readjustment and stabler conditions. I feel the development of national defense as called for under the National Defense Act is of utmost importance."

TOLD TO GO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—The state department has notified Bakumetoff the United States will not recognize his credentials after June 30th.
This action follows the Russians offer to retire if Washington desired, and comes as result of the senate criticism. The ambassador said his chief recent function of liquidating war claims was nearing completion and that Soviet recognition would in no wise be involved.
